

I Wish

I wish the night were not this static
I wish my eyes were less dynamic
I wish my dreams were not about this
I wish I were more diplomatic

I wish
I think I should get over this
I see that you're not here to say:

"I wish you love me like you did"

I wish my hands were not this tired
I wish my ears could hear the silence
I wish my tears could ease the panic
I wish my thoughts were less ironic

I wish
I think I should get over this
I see that you're not here to say:

"I wish you love me like you did"

My wishful life
My sins around this town
You crossed the line so please don't to ask
"Will you love will you love me love me back?"
